InterContinental Music Awards Receives Prestigious Recognition from the California State Assembly

InterContinental Music Awards Honored by the California State Assembly

Los Angeles, California (March 1, 2025) The InterContinental Music Awards (ICMA) has been honored with a Certificate of Recognition from the California State Assembly for its dedication to promoting peace, unity, and cultural diversity through music on an international scale. This distinguished honor was presented by Assemblymember Jesse Gabriel of the 46th Assembly District and was received in person by ICMA's founder and director, Shahed Mohseni Zonoozi, at the Assembly office.

During the presentation, Clarissa Gomez, field representative from Assemblymember Gabriel's office, formally presented the certificate, recognizing ICMA's outstanding contributions to supporting artists at every stage of their careers. This accolade further validates ICMA's mission to bridge cultures through music and provide career-changing opportunities for musicians worldwide.

"We are truly honored to receive this recognition from the California State Assembly," said Shahed Mohseni Zonoozi. "This certificate is a testament to our commitment to celebrating global talent, fostering unity, and creating meaningful opportunities for artists across continents."

The InterContinental Music Awards, known for its innovative and inclusive approach to recognizing musical excellence, continues to expand its reach, offering a platform for artists worldwide to showcase their talent and connect with industry leaders.

This latest honor from the California State Assembly follows previous recognition from the City of Los Angeles, further solidifying ICMA's impact on the music and arts community.
